Semi-Annual Report 2019

Letter to Unitholders

We are pleased to present the 2019 semi-annual report containing the management report of fund performance and the unaudited financial statements for NDX Growth & Income Fund (the "Fund").

Stock markets around the world advanced in the first half of 2019 recouping losses from the volatile markets at the end of 2018. The S&P 500 Index rose to new all-time highs as investors looked past the potential consequences of a global trade war and focused on the pivot in central bank policy from tighter conditions to anticipating looser monetary policy in the future. For the first six months of 2019, the S&P 500 Index and S&P/TSX Composite Index advanced 18.5 percent and 16.2 percent, respectively. Global markets followed the positive tone set by U.S. stocks with the MSCI EAFE Index up 14.5 percent and the MSCI Emerging Markets Index up 10.7 percent. The Federal Reserve Open Market Committee ("FOMC"), which appeared to be on the most aggressive path of tightening after raising the overnight interest rate four times in 2018, paused in the first six months of 2019 leaving the target rate at 2.5 percent. The short-end of the yield curve in the United States reacted by pricing in the probability of several rate cuts by the FOMC as 2-year yields plummeted from 2.49 percent at year end to 1.75 percent at the end of June 2019. Long-term interest rates also reacted ending the second quarter at 2.00 percent versus 2.68 percent to start the year. This dynamic has caused the yield curve (10-2 Year) to steepen slightly but remains just 25 basis points from being inverted, a condition often associated with an imminent recession. Oil prices recovered in the first half of 2019 with the Bloomberg WTI Cushing Crude Oil Spot price rising to US$58.47 per barrel on June 28, 2019, up 28.8 percent from US$45.41 at the end of 2018. Meanwhile, other commodities did not fare as well with copper prices rising 2.1 percent, aluminum down 12.3 percent and natural gas off 24.1 percent year-to-date. Volatility, as measured by the Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index ("VIX"), declined in the first half of 2019 falling from 25.4 at the end of 2018 to 15.1 at the end of June. Given the uncertainty surrounding the global political landscape, trade war rhetoric, The United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement renegotiations, declining economic data, along with the Federal Reserve continuing to pivot monetary policy, we remain cautiously optimistic on global stock markets with the view that volatility is likely to remain elevated compared to the low levels witnessed over the past few years.

During the six months ended June 30, 2019, the Fund paid cash distributions of C$0.30 per Class A unit and US$0.30 per Class U unit. The net asset value ("NAV") per Class A unit increased from C$8.27 at December 31, 2018 to C$8.33 at June 30, 2019 and the NAV per Class U unit increased from US$8.55 on December 31, 2018 to US$8.91 at June 30, 2019. The total return of the Fund, including reinvestment of distributions, for the six months ended June 30, 2019 was 4.3 percent for the Class A units and 7.7 percent for the Class U units. The net realized gain on options attributable to Strathbridge Selective Overwriting strategy (see "The Fund") amounted to C$0.38 per unit as compared to a net realized gain on options of C$0.15 per unit a year ago. For a more detailed review of the operations of the Fund, please see the Results of Operations and the Portfolio Manager Report sections.

We thank all unitholders for their continued support and encourage unitholders to review the detailed information contained within the semi-annual report.

The Fund

The Fund is a closed-end investment trust designed to provide stable quarterly cash distributions and the opportunity for capital appreciation. The Class A units are listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol NGI.UN. The Class U units are denominated in U.S. dollar currency and do not trade on an exchange.

To accomplish its objectives, the Fund invests in an actively managed portfolio consisting of securities included in the NASDAQ-100 IndexSM. The Fund may also invest in public investment funds including exchange-traded funds and other Strathbridge Funds (provided that no more than 15 percent of the net asset value of the Fund may be invested in securities of other Strathbridge Funds) that provide exposure to such equity securities. In addition, the Fund may have short exposure for non-hedging purposes but only up to 10 percent of the Fund's net asset value.

The Fund employs a proprietary investment strategy, Strathbridge Selective Overwriting ("SSO"), to enhance the income generated by the portfolio and to reduce volatility. The Fund will strategically write covered call options from time to time in respect of any securities held in its portfolio. In addition, the Fund may write covered put options in respect of securities in which it is permitted to invest.

The SSO strategy is a quantitative, technical based methodology that identifies appropriate times to write and/or close out option positions compared to writing continuously and rolling options every thirty days. This proprietary process has been developed over many years through various market cycles. The Manager believes the primary benefit to investors is to maximize the total return of the Fund while reducing the level of volatility of the portfolio, thereby increasing the risk-adjusted return.

The Fund employs an option overlay strategy which can result in higher portfolio turnover by virtue of option exercises, when compared to a conventional equity mutual fund.

Portfolio Manager Report

Stock markets around the world advanced in the first half of 2019 recouping losses from the volatile markets at the end of 2018. The S&P 500 Index rose to new all-time highs as investors looked past the potential consequences of a global trade war and focused on the pivot in central bank policy from tighter conditions to anticipating looser monetary policy in the future. For the first six months of 2019, the S&P 500 Index and S&P/TSX Composite Index advanced 18.5 percent and 16.2 percent, respectively. Global markets followed the positive tone set by U.S. stocks with the MSCI EAFE Index up 14.5 percent and the MSCI Emerging Markets Index up 10.7 percent. The Federal Reserve Open Market Committee ("FOMC"), which appeared to be on the most aggressive path of tightening after raising the overnight interest rate four times in 2018, paused in the first six months of 2019 leaving the target rate at 2.5 percent. The short-end of the yield curve in the United States reacted by pricing in the probability of several rate cuts by the FOMC as 2-year yields plummeted from 2.49 percent at year end to 1.75 percent at the end of lune 2019, Long-term interest rates also reacted ending the second quarter at 2.00 percent versus 2.68 percent to start the year. This dynamic has caused the yield curve (10-2 Year) to steepen slightly but remains just 25 basis points from being inverted, a condition often associated with an imminent recession. Oil prices recovered in the first half of 2019 with the Bloomberg WTI Cushing Crude Oil Spot price rising to US$58.47 per barrel on June 28, 2019, up 28.8 percent from US$45.41 at the end of 2018. Meanwhile, other commodities did not fare as well with copper prices rising 2.1 percent, aluminum down 12.3 percent and natural gas off 24.1 percent year-to-date. Volatility, as measured by the Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index ("VIX"), declined in the first half of 2019 falling from 25.4 at the end of 2018 to 15.1 at the end of June. Given the uncertainty surrounding the global political landscape, trade war rhetoric, The United States-Mexico-Canada Agreement renegotiations, declining economic data, along with the Federal Reserve continuing to pivot monetary policy, we remain cautiously optimistic on global stock markets with the view that volatility is likely to remain elevated compared to the low levels witnessed over the past few years.

For the six months ended June 30, 2019, the net asset value ("NAV") per Class A unit was C$8.33 and the NAV per Class U unit was US$8.91 compared to C$8.27 per Class A unit and US$8.55 per Class U unit at December 31, 2018. Unitholders received cash distributions of C$0.30 per Class A unit and US$0.30 per Class U unit during the period. The Fund's Class A units listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange as NGI.UN, closed on June 28, 2019 at C$8.28 per unit, which represents a 0.6 percent discount to the NAV per Class A unit.

The total return of the Fund, including reinvestment of distributions, for the six months ended June 30, 2019 was 4.3 percent per Class A unit and 7.7 percent per Class U unit. The best performing stock within the portfolio was Analog Devices, Inc., up 35.4 percent. At the other end of the spectrum, Intel Corp. was down 22.4 percent while held in the Fund.

Volatility was generally lower in the first half of 2019 after starting the year at an elevated level. The covered call writing activity was opportunistic over the period and took advantage of signals generated by the Strathbridge Selective Overwriting ("SSO") strategy. The Fund ended June 30, 2019 with 25.8 percent of the portfolio subject to covered calls and a 10.6 percent weight in cash. The average cash position for the first half of 2019 was 12.0 percent. The U.S. dollar exposure was actively hedged back into Canadian dollars throughout the period and ended June with approximately 50 percent of the U.S. dollar exposure hedged.

1. Basis of Presentation

The condensed semi-annual financial statements for NDX Growth & Income Fund (the "Fund") have been prepared in compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), specifically the International Accounting Standard ("IAS") 34 Interim Financial Reporting. All financial numbers contained in the notes to the condensed financial statements are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

These condensed financial statements were approved by the Board of Advisors on August 7, 2019.
